Council Considers Three Plans To Rid Gettysburg Of Mosquitoes This Year

Borough Council, at its May meeting in the fire engine house, gave consideration to the three-point program for the elimination of the mosquito nuisance this summer.

First point was to urge that property owners do their own part toward the elimination of mosquitoes by seeing that no breeding places exist or are allowed to exist on their own properties.

Second was the recommendation by Councilman L. D. Shearer that the borough purchase a fogging machine which could be used in connection with a borough tractor to spray a DDT solution into yards and other places wherever and whenever needed during the summer months. The "fogger," he said, could be connected with the power take-off of the tractor.

The third was the recommendation that Gettysburg be sprayed with DDT from an airplane.

The latter two suggestions were referred to the Highway and Finance Committees for study and a report at the June 1 meeting.

Councilmen said that mosquito control measures last year did not prove satisfactory. Oil was used on streams and other breeding places earlier in the season and later an airplane was engaged to spray DDT from the air.

"The people are demanding that we do something this year," said Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell. Councilman John Fox said, "I still think the airplane can do the best job."

Councilman Shearer said the borough could purchase a fogging machine for between $400 and $500, "less than it cost for oil." He added, "We would have it for years, to use whenever needed." He recommended that both fogging and spraying from an airplane be used this summer.

In discussing breeding places, councilmen said property owners and tenants themselves could rid their properties of mosquitoes by removing the places where they breed. Numerous cellars are already breeding mosquitoes, they said.

AFROTC AWARDS ARE ANNOUNCED AT GETTYSBURG

The Air Force Association medal, highest honor to be given a member of the Air Force ROTC at Gettysburg College, was awarded today to Cadet Lt. Col. Alfred R. Marcks, Rockville Center, N. Y. The medal is presented annually to the "graduating senior who has shown the most outstanding traits of character, leadership and scholarship in the graduating class," according to Col. Charles E. Fulton, professor of Air Science at the college.

This and other awards were made at the inspection ceremonies held on the new athletic field. The board conducting the inspection was composed of Col. Adolph M. Wright, Lt. Col. Edmund J. Bodine and Major Russell M. Southall, AFROTC Headquarters, Montgomery, Ala.

Other awards made in the program, the sponsors and the recipients were as follows:

Lippy Award made to the graduating Cadet Corps Commander by Radford Lippy, Cadet Col. Alan H. Hershberger, Bedford;

Hotel Gettysburg Award given to the most outstanding graduating squadron commander, Cadet Lt. Col. Harry A. Williams, Harrisburg;

Gettysburg College Award to the graduating senior who has shown the most outstanding qualities of leadership, initiative and ability (Please Turn to Page 4)

Mother's Day Rites At Elks Home Sunday

Annual Mother's Day services will be held by the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks next Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Elks Home, York St.

The Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., pastor of the Methodist Church, will be the speaker. Music will be furnished by the Gettysburg High School Choir.

The public is invited to attend.

SECOND OFFENSE

John Sharpe, E. Middle St., paid a fine of $5 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder this morning on a charge of failing to have a child in school. Justice Snyder said it was his second offense on the school law violation charge, filed by the Gettysburg Joint School System.

SUGGEST FIVE CENT PARKING METERS IN TOWN

All parking within Gettysburg's metered areas may be of the five-cent type this summer, if suggestions made at Monday night's meeting of the Borough Council by Councilman John Fox are carried out.

Mr. Fox, chairman of the Safety Committee, said that pennies are the cause of most of the troubles with the original parking meters installed in 1945.

He said plates could be obtained for 35 cents each which would "block off" the slot for placing pennies in the meters. Other plates on the meters would also have to be changed. He said it was the recommendation of the Safety Committee that this be done. The matter was tabled for action at the June meeting.

Mr. Fox said that bent pennies cause most of the trouble with jammed meters and are the cause of most of the repair expense. Ninety per cent of the fines are paid by "penny customers" who overstay their 12 minutes, he added.

Many Bent Pennies

Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore said a clerk in his office has a hammer and anvil she uses to straighten out bent pennies. Burgess William G. Weaver said he was "highly in favor" of the change. "We would get fewer fines with five-cent meters," he said. "That's where the headaches come when people complain about paying fines."

All of the meters in the borough except those in Lincoln Square are of the penny-nickel variety. Councilmen said that bent pennies cause most of the trouble with jammed meters and are the cause of most of the repair expense. Ninety per cent of the fines are paid by "penny customers" who overstay their 12 minutes, he added.

News Collected At Random

The following piece from "Tracks," official publication of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, tells how Strickland Gillilan, popular after-dinner speaker and humorist and well known in Gettysburg, came to write his famous "Finnigan to Flannigan." Here it is:

The year was 1897, the place Richmond, Ind., and the day was . . . dull. Consequently, the editor of the Richmond, Ind., Palladium was hard pressed for copy. The town was as he put it as bare of news as the streets of Edinburgh were bare of pedestrians on Tag Day.

Still, his keen sense of humor enabled him to see the ludicrous side of his momentary desperate situation. He contrasted his plight with that of Finnigan, a railroad section foreman who had been reproved by his boss, Flannigan, for writing long-winded letters to report the most trivial accidents.

"Oh, for a Finnigan to fill out the columns of the Palladium," he wailed. "Oh, for . . ." And then an idea struck! Addicted to writing bits of verse occasionally, the editor decided to put the Finnigan yarn to rhyme. He did just that, published it in the evening edition of the Palladium, and started himself on the road to fame.

R. W. SANDERS EXPIRES TODAY

Richard W. Sanders, 44, Bonneauville, Mt. Pleasant Twp. tax collector, died this morning in the Harrisburg Hospital, where he had been a patient for the past two weeks. He had been in failing health for almost a year. Death was due to complications.

Mr. Sanders was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanders of Hanover. In addition to his duties as tax collector he also operated a bakery route. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Bonneauville, and the Holy Name Society of the church.

He is survived by his widow, Helen Keiser Sanders, and eight children, Elaine, Beverly, William, Dale, Wayne, Wanda, Roland and Robert, all at home.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

First Aid Film To Be Shown Tonight

"Help Wanted," a Red Cross first aid film, will be shown tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the local Fire Engine House as an instruction aid for the Civil Defense personnel.

The 30-minute educational film, which shows various methods of bandaging, rescue and administering of artificial respiration, will be presented to the students in the First Aid Class currently taught by John C. Riddle, Red Cross instructor. Phelps Pennington will be the projectionist.

All persons interested in Civil Defense and Red Cross first aid procedures are invited to the showing which will take place before the regular class period.

"Open House" In Schools Thursday

The annual "open house" of the Gettysburg Elementary Schools will be held Thursday evening. High Street, Meade and Lincoln Schools will be open that evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

The open house is held to afford an opportunity for parents and friends to visit the schools, inspect the various work and activities and meet the teachers.

As in the past years, the art work will render a colorful showing. Clown drawings made from colored yarn, cut paper dream cows, free expression paintings of bold designs, a three-dimensional decorative fish panel, and mobiles expressing moving objects in space are a few of the new ideas that will be presented.

The open house is under the direction of the elementary principals, and the director of art, Richard D. Krick, with the cooperation of the teachers and students.

Red Officer, Posing As Scribe In Africa, Wrote Piece Asking Ike's Removal; It Was Censored

By DON WHITEHEAD (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower doesn't know it—but Lt. Col. Solodovnik of the Russian Army had had his way, Eisenhower most certainly never would have become president of the United States.

The little colonel started a personal war against Eisenhower back in the winter of 1942-43. That was when he advocated firing the supreme commander of Allied forces in North Africa—who was Eisenhower. And he told the British as much.

As everyone knows, the general wasn't fired. He went ahead to lead the Allies to victory in Europe. And, probably to Solodovnik's dismay, he became presi-

LIONS NOMINATE OFFICERS; SONS GUESTS MONDAY

Nominees for officers of the Gettysburg Lions Club to be elected May 25 were proposed Monday evening in the report of the nominating committee at the weekly dinner meeting of the clubmen at the high school cafeteria. Lions' sons were guests and attendance totaled about 160 with President John S. Rice presiding.

These names were offered for positions to be decided by balloting with the presidency and first and second vice presidency to be filled by automatic succession:

Third vice president, Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Prof. George R. Larkin and Donald A. Ullrich; secretary, Ralph E. Barley; treasurer, J. Herbert Weikert; directors (two to be elected), Dr. Clarence Bartholomew, Richard Folkenroth, Percy Miller and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter; tail twister, Donald Manning, S. Blaine Miller, Robert Sheads and LeRoy Smith; and Lion teamers, Paul Burkholder, Dr. Robert Hand, John Kandlehart and Charles A. Smith.

C. A. Cluck Next President
The nominating committee report was presented by Radford H. Lippy. The committee was made up of the three immediate past presidents.

The present first vice president, Calvin A. Cluck, will become the new president in July and the two other vice presidents, Elmer H. Schriver and Earl E. Ziegler, will move up to first and second vice president, respectively.

Boy Scouts of the Order of the Arrow of Camp Tuckahoe presented an Indian Dance in full costume as the program for the evening.

HANOVER DRUM CORPS TO MARCH HERE ON MAY 30

Members of the Albert J. Lentz Post 202, American Legion, voted at a regular meeting in the post home Monday night, to express willingness to give up the Legion memorial ceremonies in the National Cemetery on Memorial Day following the annual parade, so that the ceremony may be shortened and the GAR ritual by the Sons of Union Veterans only be retained. In recent years there have been separate ceremonies by the SUV, Legion and VFW.

Announcement was made that the Harold H. Blair Post, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps of Hanover, will lead the Lentz post in the annual Memorial Day parade on May 30.

List Nominees

The Nominating Committee reported the following slate of officers for the annual election on June 1: For commander, Paul Anzenberger; first vice commander, Glenn Harner; second vice commander, Richard Finkbeiner; adjutant, William Timmons; finance officer, Richard Fox; chaplain, Howard Strausbaugh; historian, Paul L. Spangler; sergeant at arms (two), Vincent Florence and Glenn Minter; trustee, Cletus Smith and Lawrence Sheads. Further nominations may be made at the June meeting.

The membership was reported at 1,095, which entitles the post to 12 delegates and 12 alternates at the annual state convention to be held in Pittsburgh July 29, 30 and August 1. Commander Donald M. Swope appointed three past commanders, Harold Wentz, Noel Flynn and Paul B. Fox as a committee to nominate delegates and alternates.

One membership, that of Wilbur Rentzel, was transferred to the Emmitsburg post. New members accepted Monday night are: George Smith, East Berlin; Alva R. McCullery, Gettysburg; Norman Reecher, Iron Springs; John H. Brown, Camp Hill; J. V. Myers, Shippensburg; Austin R. Morris, Nanticoke, Mass.; George P. Reecher, Iron Springs; William P. Eisenhart, Gettysburg; Henry L. Byers, Gettysburg; and John M. Arnold, Biglerville.

Jr. R.C. Council To Elect Tonight

A meeting of the Junior Red Cross Council will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Gettysburg High School. This is an important meeting, the last of this school year, and representatives from all schools in the County Council are urged to be present.

Election of officers will take place and members to represent the Junior Red Cross of Adams County will be selected for the annual Hood College conference.

IOOF Class Will Be Initiated Tonight

The second and third degree of the Odd Fellows will be exemplified this evening at 7:30 o'clock at a meeting to be held in the local lodge hall on Chambersburg St.

DR. SIMONTON RE-ELECTED BY SEMINARY BD.

The Rev. Dr. Chester S. Simonton, York, was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary at the annual spring meeting held this morning and afternoon in the Church of the Abiding Presence.

Other officers renamed were the Rev. Dr. E. "Joy" Hauser, Clearfield, vice president, and the Rev. Raymond M. Miller, Baltimore, secretary.

Formation of a Seminary Auxiliary was announced, with the officers of the auxiliary including: Mrs. Gould Wickey, Washington, D. C., president; Mrs. Viggo Swensen, Harrisburg, vice president; Mrs. Reginald W. Deitz, Gettysburg, secretary, and Fred Koneman, Washington, D. C., treasurer.

Students Cosmopolitan

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, seminary president, reported that "the roster of 135 students is close to the largest enrollment in the history of the seminary. An interesting development is the apparently widening background from which these students come. Nineteen states and countries, including Latvia, Germany and Canada, are represented by the student body. The students come from 16 synods of the United Lutheran Church, ten general Lutheran bodies, five denominational groups and one European Lutheran Church. Fifty colleges, have contributed to their education. A cosmopolitan group is assembled on the campus."

Interest in the graduate department is also continuing at a high level. Dr. Baughman said, with 27 enrolled in the first semester and 16 for the second semester.

The seminary president reported bequests to the seminary from two former residents of Baltimore; the late Lillie Henningshausen, who willed $5,000 to the seminary and $1,000 received from the trust of the late Charles W. Slagle.

Distribution of the bequest of Julia L. Kraft, late of Wheeling, W. Va., amounting to approximately $70,000, was begun, he reported.

Wider Recreation Program Discussed

A recreation program which will cover a greater age spread was discussed at a meeting of the Advisory Group of the Gettysburg Recreation Association Monday night at the fire engine house. Suggestions will be forwarded to the Board of Directors of the association at a regular meeting of this body on May 18.

A proposed constitution was presented by the committee, composed of Mrs. Kenneth Rhinehart, chairman, Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Charles Lauver and Dr. Harold Dunkelberger. It will come up for adoption at the next meeting of the group on June 1.

Dr. Clarence Bartholomew, president of the group, presided, with nine members of the 24 present. An appeal was made for greater attendance at meetings.

Local School Board Keeps 25-Mill Tax Rate; Increase Or Head Tax Looms In Year

The Gettysburg School Board meeting at the high school Monday night adopted a $165,600 budget and continued the 25-mill tax rate for another year.

At the same time, discussion among the board members indicated that the coming year will probably be the last that the tax rate, will remain at the present level.

By next year the board will have additional expenses in connection with new school construction and the "cost of living" for the school district will rise. Whether that will mean additional millage, or a per capita tax, or both, will have to be answered next spring when the board makes up its budget for the 1954-55 school year.

Considered Jump Now

The members considered raising the tax rate this year, to build a surplus in anticipation of next year's increased expenditures, but then decided against it, pending final determination of exactly how much more will be needed in another year. Most expressed the hope that possibly federal income taxes will be lower in another year, thus helping to offset an increase in school taxes. Board members, however, admitted "that's just wishful thinking."

Income expected during the coming year will total $182,718.02, giving the board about an $18,000 leeway to meet the beginning of the new obligations that will be assumed with the new construction. In addition the borough school board has $45,563.63 on a certificate of deposit which will be available for the school construction and is not listed in the budget figures. The sum has been accumulated as a building fund.

Details Of Budget

Expenditures listed in the coming budget: General control, $3,000; instruction, $146,192.42; auxiliary agencies, $6,000; maintenance, $3,000; fixed charges, $100, and debt service, $7,307.58, are about the same as budgeted last year. Actual expenditures during the school year 1952-53 were $157,033.03, but that amount does not include a credit for $4,472.13 which the district had with the joint school system from the previous year, and which otherwise would have had to be paid during the current year.

MARCH OF DIMES RAISED $8,334

The total amount raised in the Adams County 1953 March of Dimes campaign was $8,334.31, or $1,600 more than was raised a year ago, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, county president, announced today.

In thanking all those who contributed or assisted in the campaign, Mrs. Codori listed the following following amounts from various communities:

Arendtsville, $183.56; Biglerville, $399.95; Cashtown, $99.06; East Berlin, $105.38; Fairfield, $100.48; Gettysburg, $2,182.24; Littlestown, $1,122.13; New Oxford, $658.19; McSherrytown, $439.21; York Springs, $222.99.

Receipts from mailing cards totaled $2,846.14, Mrs. Codori said.

Dies After Hitting Local Man's Auto

Lowndes W. Roman, 58, of Hancock, Md., was killed Saturday at 8:30 when the car he was operating struck the rear of another automobile on the western slope of Siding Hill mountain about 10 miles west of Hancock.

State Trooper H. P. O'Brien said Lowndes, west-bound on Route 40, failed to negotiate a curve. His car hit the rear of a vehicle owned by Raymond Bising, 100 Baltimore St. Roman's chest was crushed when the impact threw him against his steering wheel.

Bising and his wife, Frances, had pulled off the highway and gotten out to view the Washington County scenery. The impact hurled the Bising car 120 feet and demolished it.

Korean Front Very Quiet; See One Red

SEOUL (AP)—The Korean battlefield was so quiet today the sight of a lone Communist soldier won official notice. But a U. S. Navy task force poured tons of shells and bombs into the battered east coast port of Wonsan in the heaviest strike in months.

"Our men sighted one Chinese near an outpost and threw grenades. He went away," read the day's battle report of an American division on the Western Front.

Some observers said the 155-mile line was quieter than at any time since the war began 34 months ago.

Four ships led by the battleship New Jersey bombarded Red gun positions ringing Wonsan harbor, while dive bombers and fighter-bombers from Task Force 77 bombed and rocketed the city. First reports said shells from the New Jersey's 16-inch rifles smashed the main Red observation post overlooking the harbor.

Five Cruisers In Action
The attack was led by the cruiser St. Paul and supported by the destroyers Nicholas, Henderson, Moore, Brush and Endicott. Their guns hit Communist bridges and guns and the destroyer-mine-sweeper Endicott sank three Red.

Monday night 13 B29 Superforts struck two Communist supply centers on the west coast at Hadan and Chingwan. Almost 400 military equipment and supply storage buildings and troop billeting structures were targets of the attack.

In the biggest of three Red probing attacks reported during the night, about 20 Chinese skirmished with a South Korean patrol on the Eastern Front.

3 "AA" Members Give Program Here

Three members of Alcoholics Anonymous told how they had "hit bottom" in drinking and then became members of the AA to cure themselves of drunkenness at a meeting of the Men of Christ Lutheran Church Sunday evening in the Sunday School room of the church.

The three, whose names were not given, were introduced by Otis Morse, program director of a York radio station who served as moderator for the discussion on the work of the AA.

Alcoholics Anonymous is made up of people "like ourselves," they told the group, who have been alcoholics and who "understand each others' problem." Membership is not confined to men, they said, adding that about 35 per cent of the members of the York AA group are women.

C. E. Bilheimer, program committee chairman for the Men of Christ Church introduced Mr. Morse. President Russell Campbell presided with 21 present. The session was the last until fall. The meeting opened with dessert served at 6:30 o'clock followed by the program at 7:15 o'clock.

French Admiral Is Seeking Home Here

Rear Admiral Andre Jubelin, Naval attaché to the French embassy, Washington, D. C. and his family may be summer residents of Gettysburg if M. Jubelin can find a home here or near here he likes for himself, his wife, their three small children, his mother, and a nurse.

"What I am looking for is a village or small town in a pleasant setting. I am not over anxious for a very modern house, as long as the beds are good and there is a good size frigidaire," he wrote to the Chamber of Commerce here.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to know if there is such a place available. M. Jubelin can be reached through his secretary, Miss d'Arrast, at Decatur 2-8300, extension 30, Washington, D. C.

"TO BE FAITHFUL"

In order to be faithful . . . to one who clings to you . . . you first must know your inner self . . . and to yourself be true . . . you must be able to decide . . . what may be right or wrong . . . so that your actions play the notes . . . that write a happy song . . . you must be open and above . . . the slightest fear or doubt . . . and realize beyond all else . . . that shady ways will out . . . you must detest dishonesty . . . and know the pain it brings . . . for many are broken lives . . . that stem from wayward flings . . . above all this you must have love . . . for without love you're lost . . . so you must learn to cherish it . . . with truth to pay the cost . . . if you do this I know you'll be . . . as faithful as the sun . . . and you will know a happiness . . . that never will be done.

Brooklyn Has New Waterfront Slaying

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP)—A dock leader was shot to death last night in Hoboken's second waterfront slaying within two years.

A single bullet in the head proved fatal to Francis Kelly, who was to have started work today as a waterfront hiring boss at a newly reopened pier.

The shooting was another in a series of violent incidents on the New York-New Jersey waterfront, being probed by a Senate committee in Washington.

9 DROWN ON PICNIC OUTING

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Nine of 10 persons crowded into a five-passenger boat for a picnic outing drowned in Hauser Lake Sunday night after the trail craft capsized.

Only Mrs. Ed Akins, 38, mother of four children who went down with the others, was rescued after clinging to the boat for more than an hour.

Rescuers found her in hysterical condition and there apparently were no witnesses to give a coherent account of exactly what happened.

Sheriff Dave Middlemas said those who drowned were:

Ed Akins, 35, a smelterman for Anaconda Copper Mining Co. at East Helena, and the fourth child—Pete 14; Dolores, 11; Doris, 10, and Darlene Akins, 9, all of Helena.

Mr. and Mrs. John Akins of Townsend, Mont., parents of Ed Akins.

Edward Burns of Helena. Burdette Mace, 19, of Grants Pass, Ore.

Mrs. Akins, brought to St. Peter's Hospital here in a state of shock, told the sheriff she didn't see any of the others surface after their boat overturned.

Ten Freed POW's, Bitter About Red Taint Charges, Declare They Didn't Go For Communism

By TOM BRADSHAW and BILL ALEXANDER

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Ten gaunt, tight-lipped men stepped into the public spotlight at Valley Forge military hospital to deny they had been tainted by communism while prisoners of war in Korea.

They were bitter — and they made it plain they felt they had reason to be.

While the 10—and 10 companions—were en route from Tokyo by plane last Thursday, an Air Force spokesman said the Pentagon had ordered a veil of secrecy thrown around the flight "because of the position taken by the Army and others that these men may have been misled under conditions of duress and hardship during the period of their captivity."

10 Eager For Chance

And the Pentagon said Valley Forge Hospital had been designated the best spot for treatment.

The 20 reached the hospital late Friday night, rested for a day and then were asked if they were ready to meet the press. Ten said they were anxious for the chance. Four refused bitterly. The rest were too ill or just didn't want any publicity.

The 10 interviewed were brought into a small auditorium two by two. The first pair were Cpl. Vernon L. Warren, 22, St. Louis, and Pfc. Roger Herndon, 20, Jacksonville, Fla.

"Their Best Was Nothing"

Warren and Herndon said flatly they felt they had gotten "a dirty deal" in being labeled possible Communist sympathizers.

Herndon, whose right arm was amputated by the Chinese because of a machine-gun wound received at the time of his capture in November, 1950, said he found no reason to accept Communist indoctrination.

"They showed us the best they had," he said, "and it was nothing."

Suspicion "An Insult"

Cpl. James L. Ball, 21, Bellburn, W. Va., said: "This Red label makes us feel like criminals. We are all completely innocent."

Cpl. Robert H. Hickox, 23, Syracuse, N. Y., who was serving with the 65th Engineers when captured Nov. 27, 1950, said he considered the suggestion he or any other member of the group was Red-tainted "an insult."

Threats Of Death

Cpl. Richard O. Morrison, 22, Burlington, Ia., said his reaction was the same as Hickox—"insulted."

A 22-year-old corporal from Oklahoma City, Okla.—Marvin L. Brown—said the Communists had forced him to back up Red charges of U. N. germ warfare in Korea under pain of death.

Brown, who lost his right arm after being wounded and captured on a night patrol March 5, 1952, said a Chinese officer told him he would be shot unless he admitted knowledge of germ warfare—but Brown hastened to add he felt there was no basis for a belief any of the repatriated prisoners had succumbed to Communist propaganda.

He's No Red

M. Sgt. Walter McCollum, 34, Lake Charles, La., said his ordeal in Red hands included a forced march to Communist Prison Camp No. 4 at Wewon, North Korea. On that march, he said, he suffered a case of frozen feet. Despite his experience, he said, he intends to remain in the Army.

Cpl. William R. Hinkle, 22, Clintonville, W. Va., ended his interview with a brief voluntary statement:

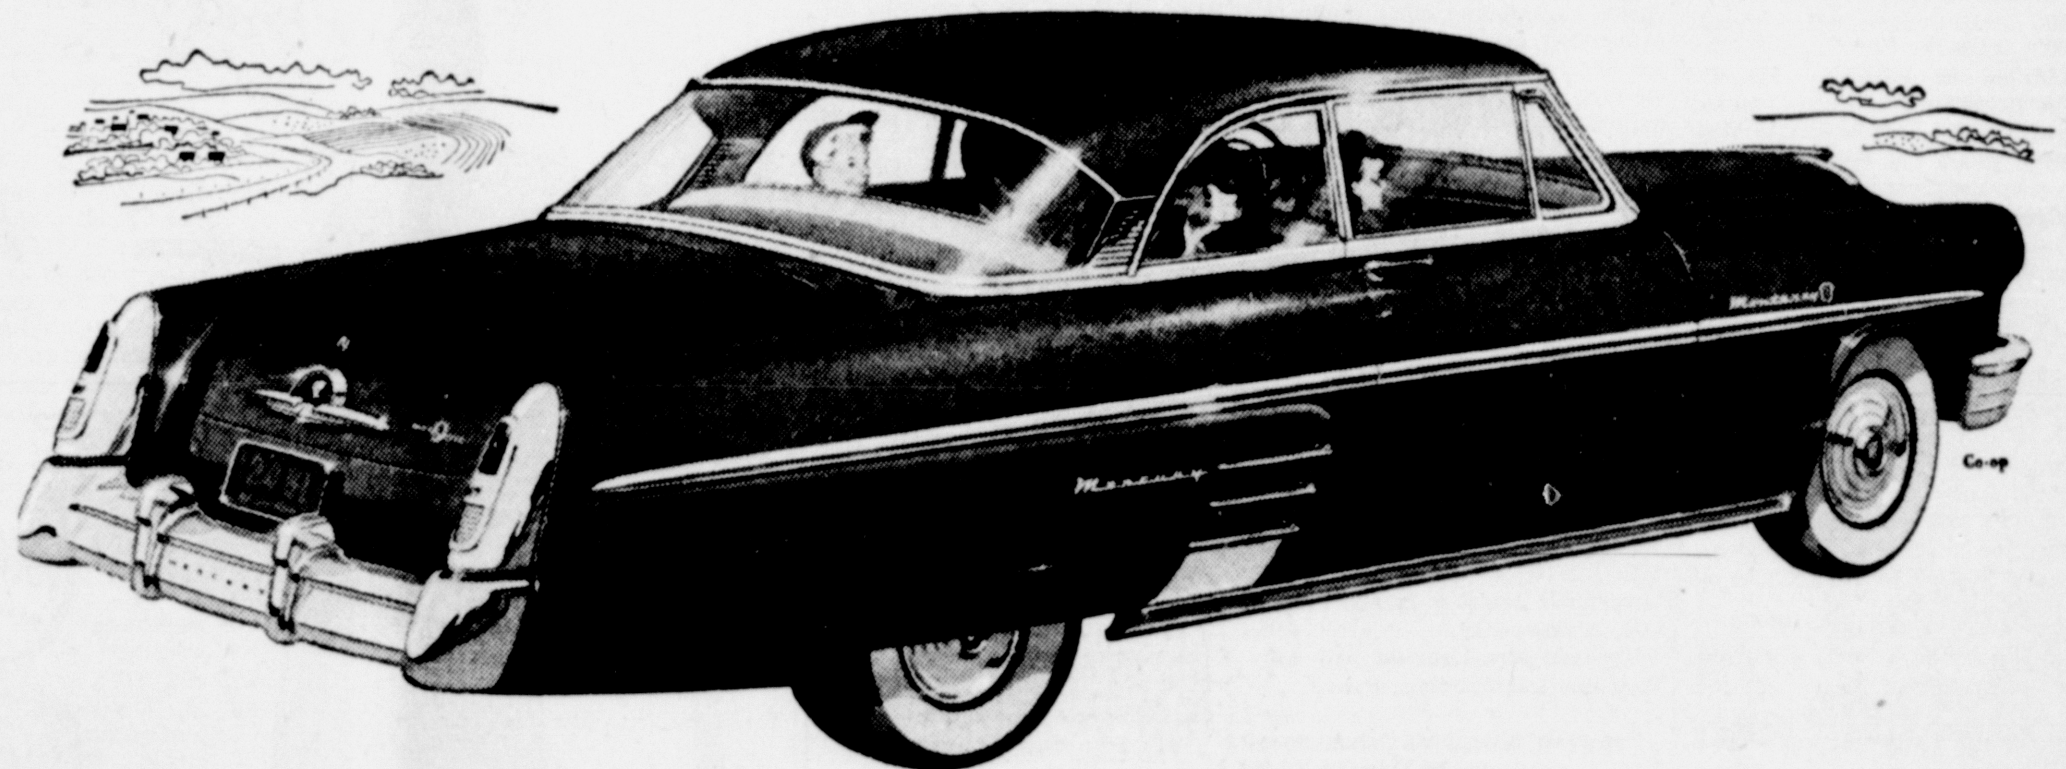

"I'd like to make one thing perfectly clear—I am not a Communist or Red."

TOWN FUNDS AVAILABLE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today signed into law a bill authorizing cities of the first, second and third class and incorporated towns to appropriate funds to veterans organizations for Memorial and Armistice Day services.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Local Miscellany: The Barnum and Bailey shows will be in York Thursday, May 19th.

Dairyman J. Mervin Bender is sporting a fine new delivery wagon. The L. M. Allen Hardware Company has also put into use a handsome new wagon.

The Y.W.C.T.U. will meet with Mrs. Amos Eckert Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Johnny Miller, who for a number of years has been conducting a fruit and candy stand, at the Western Maryland depot, is again at his place of business, having set up today for the first time.

Persons desiring Philadelphia papers—daily or Sunday—must order in advance from our newsdealer, Mr. S. J. Bumbaugh, in order to be served as Mr. Bumbaugh will only receive enough copies to supply his regular customers.

A great change in temperature was experienced Thursday night, the fall being about 30° from the previous day.

Strawberries, peas, tomatoes, etc., from the South are becoming plentiful in the provision stores of town.

There is prospects for a large fruit crop according to blossoms.

Commissioner A. M. Waybright won the beautiful silk quilted blanket off by the Willing Workers last week.

The first of Friday night ruined many plants.

The Superior Court on Monday handed down a decision sustaining Judge Swope in the case of John D. Keith, trustee of H. S. Cashman vs. Gettysburg National Bank, which was decided in favor of the latter.

More Laurels for Eddie Plank:

We are proud of "Eddie" Plank, for he is one of the best baseball twirlers on the diamond today. At Boston last week he added more laurels to his reputation and again demonstrated his ability as a great baseball pitcher. On Thursday he pitched against Winters, his old college chum here, and succeeded in striking him out three times in succession and winning the game by the score of 12 to 2.

On Saturday "Eddie" was placed in the box again and pitched a phenomenal game, succeeding in winning another victory for his side. He was up against Boston's great pitcher, Cy Young, but this did not affect him in the least as he proved himself a superior pitcher to Young. Plank also scored a great "hit" by banging the ball to the right center for home run after two men were out.

A Musical: On Friday evening Miss Eva Danner will give a musical at her home on Center Square. All of Miss Danner's pupils will be present—about 30 in number—and the selections will be both vocal and instrumental. Miss Danner will give several selections on the piano accompanied by Mr. Rhodes on the violin.

Addition to Furniture Factory: The Gettysburg Furniture Company is putting up an addition to their factory, which has been made necessary by the great demand for their product.

The new building will be a two story brick building, 32 x 80, and when completed will be used as a finishing department.

Famous Palmist Here: Madam Lucinda, America's noted palmist, has engaged Room No. 12 at Hotel Gettysburg for a short time. The Madam comes to us with a great reputation and your business with her will be in strictest confidence.

Hours 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., to all 25 cents.

Laughlin-Wilson Wedding: The Philadelphia Press of Friday contains a very interesting account of the Laughlin-Wilson wedding from which we take the following:

Rev. Edward Reed Laughlin, son of Henry A. Laughlin, the multi-millionaire steel magnate of Pittsburgh, and a first cousin of the Countess Yarmouth, claimed a Philadelphia girl as his bride yesterday—Miss May Strung Wilson, daughter of Judge Robert N. Wilson.

The ceremony was performed at the Calvary Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the bride and groom left the city in an automobile and will spend their honeymoon cruising in Mr. Laughlin's private yacht.

Rev. and Mrs. Laughlin will take their home at Fairfield, Pa.

Personal: Sheriff A. Calvin Basehoar, accompanied by Deputies C. M. Beals, Wm. P. Quimby, Esq., of this place, and Charles Basehoar, of Mount Joy township, took Lewis, John P. and Clarence Laughman to the Eastern Penitentiary on Monday.

Mrs. Charles W. Myers attended the funeral of her father, David Rife, at Centerville, Cumberland county, last week.

Miss Alice Castor, of Rock City, Ill., is visiting Miss Ethel Wolf.

Miss Mabel Kitzmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kitzmiller, of this place, won first prize in rapid calculation at the Taylor School of Stenography, Philadelphia, on Friday.

Simon Diller, wife and two daughters, of Hanover, are visiting Mrs. S. J. Diller, Carlisle street.

Mrs. Evaline Holtzworth and Mrs. J. A. Holtzworth were recent Harrisburg visitors.

Mrs. William P. Quimby and children, after spending the winter in Orlando, Florida, has returned home. Mrs. John A. McCurdy, of Steelton, who also spent the winter at the same place, returned to her home at Steelton.

On Sunday Mr. C. P. Bastian, of the Seminary, was elected Pastor of the charge consisting of St. John's Lutheran church, St. Luke's church and Grace church.

J. Lawrence Williams, Esq., of this place, has been engaged to deliver the Memorial Day oration at Littlestown.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Harry Conover, of Harrisburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conover, of Germany township, to Miss Frances Shope, of Harrisburg, on Thursday.

CONVALESCENCE

(Man's version)
They've done with fussing over me.

They laugh it off when I complain.

The women make it clear to me That I am getting well again.

For what I want I have to shout.

They argue with me, and it's plain

Of patience they are running out.

I must be getting well again.

To please me they no longer try.

And since I now am free from pain

They gladly tell the neighbors I

Am getting like myself again.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

KEEP HAVING FUN!

Too many useful human beings are being snuffed out of life because they have refused to take time out for pure fun! And by fun I mean anything that creates pleasure, whether mental or physical. Anything that contrasts large against "the daily grind," or usual, day after day.

Applause for President Eisenhower with his days off for golf. Let us hope for him a comfortable place below the nineties, into the eighties—and perhaps some day into the seventies! He's getting his fun, well deserved. Breaking into the champion golf class will all the more fit him to break the cruel talons of war and give to the world its peace for which millions daily offer up their prayers!

Fun is elixir to the soul! It relaxes tense muscles, soothes the nerves and reconciles one's entire outlook upon life. Fun is self-medicine, with nothing but pleasant and thrilling after effects. It offers an endless variety of escapes from worry, discouragement and often—despair. It's the earliest symptom of health and happiness. Youth is strong for it. It couldn't well live without it. Why should it well, therefore, be abandoned by anyone, at any period of life?

In the animal world fun is one of its biggest cards. Your faithful dog companion would appear ill if he didn't get his fun every day of his life. One day at my Nova Scotia island retreat I watched with interest the play of a rat and squirrel—having fun. It's the most natural thing in life. People begin to fall apart when they let fun drop out of their lives.

Keep having fun. You know the old saying: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." People go by the thousands to our baseball parks to see a game because it's fun for them—and the healthiest of fun at that. People take vacations because they give to them a change and they have fun. People become collectors of books, stamps and other things because they get fun out of it. When we stop having fun we start slicing off many possible years of health, happiness, pure pleasure and usefulness.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Ideas and Action."

Winning Streaks Of Pirates, Dodgers Broken By Cincinnati Ends Slump By Beating Giants

By BEN PHLEAR

AP Sports writer

The odds down in Vinegar Bend, Ala., better start thumping their St. Louis guidebooks. This looks like a good year to go watch Wilmer pitch.

McMenamin (D-Lackawanna) believes that something should be done to "keep the politics out of prizefighting."

Last night at Pittsburgh Vinegar Bend mowed down the recently dangerous Pittsburgh Pirates on two measly hits. He struck out nine and didn't allow a safety until rookie Carlos Bernier broke through with a single in the sixth. Frank Thomas got the only other Pittsburgh hit, also a single, with two out in the ninth. St. Louis won the game, 5-0.

Reds Stop Giants
While Mizell was ending the Pirates' five-game winning streak, two other streaks in the National League also were broken. The Milwaukee Braves stopped Brooklyn at six straight with a 9-4 decision at Ebbets Field and the Cincinnati Reds snapped their eight-game losing streak at the expense of the New York Giants. This happened, 9-5, in the second game of a double header after the Giants had won the first game, 12-4.

The Philadelphia Phillies took sole possession of first place in the National League as Brooklyn lost by whipping Chicago, 8-4.

In the only American League action the lowly Detroit Tigers rose up and conquered the New York Yankees, 10-8, knocking the Yanks down into a percentage tie for first place with the Cleveland Indians.

Sweet Victory For Braves
Boston at St. Louis was postponed because of wet grounds and the other four clubs weren't scheduled.

The Braves' victory was a sweet one for the Wisconsin Redmen, who bowed 18 times in 21 meetings with Brooklyn last season. After sending Preacher Roe to the showers in two innings the Braves exploded for five runs against Clem Labine in the sixth inning to get the decision. Del Crandall, Johnny Logan and Sid Gordon led the 15-hit Milwaukee attack.

Del Ennis had a big night for the Phillies. He drove home five runs, three of them on a double, and hit a home run as Jim Konstanty picked up his second success against one loss.

Tigers Hammer Raschi
Daryl Spencer, the Giants rookie third baseman who was benched last week for weak hitting, smashed his first major league grand slam home run in New York's first game triumph over the Redlegs.

Gus Bell matched Spencer's effort for Cincinnati in the nightcap. Bell and Ted Kluszewski collected 10 hits and drove in 12 runs during the long afternoon.

Detroit hammered Vic Raschi and three successors for 18 hits, including four doubles and two triples. The Yanks have used 15 pitchers in their last four games, of which they have won only one.

WANTS SENATE TO OKAY JONES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Hugh J. McMenamin (D-Lackawanna) believes that something should be done to "keep the politics out of prizefighting."

McMenamin made the statement yesterday in calling for Senate action on the confirmation of the appointment of George J. Jones, Jr., Williamsport, as a member of the State Athletic Commission.

"Sportswriters and other sportsmen in my district assure me that George Jones is one of the most capable and conscientious public servants in the commonwealth," McMenamin told the Senate.

Confirmation of Gov. John S. Fine's appointment of both Jones and John (Ox) da Grossa, Philadelphia, as athletic commissioners, has been held up in the Senate since Feb. 16.

The confirmations, which would be considered together, were delayed by Philadelphia Democrats because of the commission's arguments with Philadelphia tax officials over destruction of a number of tickets to a heavyweight championship fight last year.

Since that time Da Grossa has died.

New Point System In Effect For Colleges

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new point system of determining football and basketball champions in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Athletic Conference went into effect today.

Devised by Dr. Roger Saylor, of the Pennsylvania State College, the new system replaces the old Rocky Mountain point system. The new scoring plan will give more weight to the placing of teams playing tougher schedules, Saylor said.

The conference at a meeting here yesterday also named a committee to report back next September on a plan to have a commissioner or central agency appoint officials. At present, home teams pick the officials.

John A. Hock, Bloomsburg, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the organization as were George E. Miller, Indiana, president, and Oscar Liljenstein, East-Stroudsville, president.

TV MAY FORCE ALL DAY GAMES

NEW YORK (AP)—Warren Giles, president of the National League, said today television may force major league baseball from under the arcs back into the daylight.

"I think we will see a contraction rather than an increase in night games," he said, "and mainly because of television."

"I consider television a problem, sure, but as an industry—not because baseball is being televised. It's a new diversion for the prospective fan."

"Years ago people had a choice whether they'd go to a movie, the theater or a ball game. Now they have these choices plus that of whether to stay at home and look at the screen."

"With attractive schedules beamed into their homes at night, many of them choose not to go out and baseball suffers. Maybe baseball will go back to the afternoon, when the TV competition is not so stiff."

Cites Cubs' Success
Giles said the Chicago Cubs offered proof that a team can confine itself to afternoon games and still do well.

"The Cubs play all day games, they offer television and they still draw around a million fans a year with a second division club," he added.

The NL executive was here for an informal meeting of league directors to discuss the possibility of opening the season a week later—April 20 instead of April 13.

After an all-day discussion yesterday, the National League heads decided to stick with April 13 despite their unhappy experiences with bad weather this spring.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching—Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, St. Louis Cardinals, shut out Pittsburgh, 5-0, on two singles and struck out nine in winning his second game of the season without a loss.

Batting—Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati Redlegs, combined to drive in 12 runs on 10 hits, including a grand slam home run by Bell, as Cincinnati split a doubleheader with the New York Giants.

Mountaineers Nip Bullets 2-1 With Run In Ninth; Lehigh Here Wednesday

A tainted run with one out in the last of the ninth inning gave the Mt. St. Mary's College baseball team a 2-1 victory over Gettysburg in a game played Monday afternoon at Emmitsburg.

Sam Mowery of the Bullets and Ward Clarke of the Mountaineers hooked up in a beautiful pitchers' duel until the final frame. Clarke held the edge, permitting but two Mowery yielded six hits and struck out three. Clarke walked eight and Mowery seven.

With the score tied at 1-1, Green opened the ninth inning for the Mount by grounding out, Dudley to Schalick. Smith and Tumulty singled, Smith stopping at second base. With Ward Clarke batting, Jack Keller, catching for the first time, attempted to pick off Smith at second base. His throw struck Smith and when Fred Filbert fumbled the ball after it rolled toward right field, Smith streaked to the plate with the winning run.

Mt. St. Mary's tabbed its first run in the second inning. After P. Clarke grounded out, Sharpe walked. Green singled him to third from where he tallied on Smith's fly to left.

The Bullets' lone tally was in the third. Chick Dudley walked, Schalick struck out but Keller walked, Dudley moving to second base. Shaullis singled to right, Dudley scoring and Keller racing to third base. Joe Lang whiffed. The threat died when Keller was picked off base, Ward Clarke to Green.

The defeat gives the Bullets a 3-4 record. Lehigh will play here Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mt. St. Mary's now has a 5-5 mark. The Mountaineers will be host to Washington College at Emmitsburg Wednesday.

ATHLETES ARE AMBASSADORS OF COMMUNITY, JUDGE ASSERTS

"You are ambassadors of our community," Judge W. C. Sheely told 143 members of the athletic teams of Gettysburg High School at a dinner honoring the students held by the local Moose Lodge Monday night. The dinner was served in the Moose home on York St.

"Each year the state Chamber of Commerce picks the men who have left our state to become outstanding in other states and gives them the title of honorary ambassador from Pennsylvania," Judge Sheely said.

"And it is a true title, for other people judge a community or a state by the people who come from that section. Thus you, as you go into other communities to take part in athletic events, are serving as ambassadors for Gettysburg and Adams County. The impression people get of our community depends on you. And from the reports I have received you have done an excellent job as ambassadors for our town and county."

The Moose lodge was praised by Judge Sheely, and school officials, including Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefe, Principal Guile W. Leffever and Athletic Director George Forney, for the manner in which the dinner was served and the ideal behind the annual testimonial dinners to all athletic teams of the Gettysburg Junior and Senior High Schools.

Yovicsin Speaks
Attorney Donald M. Swope, toastmaster for the dinner, told the students: "This tribute is made to all sports teams not for your season records, but for the fine sportsmanlike you displayed at all times. It is a tribute not for winning, but for the manner in which you won and lost. How you play the game is more important than the outcome of the games. It is far more important to play the game fairly and squarely than to emerge victorious."

John Yovicsin, Gettysburg College coach, who was the principal speaker, told the students, "I want to congratulate you and your coaches. I have not only seen your team play, but I have talked to your coaches and I have attended clinics with your coaches. They are students of the game and they are teaching you the newest and most modern techniques. You are fortunate in having them as your coaches."

Yovicsin asserted that the athletic programs of the schools are "helping in all the areas of growth and development of young people in which educators are interested. The schools are interested in intellectual growth, and sports today are truly games of high mental standards. No dullard can play the games well, for they call for a mind trained to split second decisions. The schools seek social development, and we are teaching boys and girls to get along together in our athletic programs. And in addition we are teaching them how to dress, how to eat and to become accustomed to taking part in public activities through the trips our teams make and through affairs such as this one tonight."

Fits School Goals
"The schools are interested in physical development, and our athletic programs not only promote sound bodies but teach good health habits. Emotional development is one of the areas of education and the athletic programs help much toward emotional development, the overcoming of fear, the gaining of self-confidence, all of which will do much to help our young people in later life. And fifth, education is interested in spiritual development, and in teaching honesty and fair-play our athletic development helps in establishing moral principles."

Henry T. Bream, athletic director at Gettysburg College, spoke briefly in praise of the Moose and the high school coaches and teams and introduced members of his staff present. Principal Lefever introduced members of the high school athletic staff.

Governor Robert Neary introduced the master of ceremonies and extended the greetings of the lodge to the students and the guests. Rev. John Fry gave the invocation and benediction.

The largest crowd ever to attend an opening game at Crosley Field was 35,747 on April 15, 1924. The Redlegs defeated the Pirates, 6-5.

SALES TAX BILL IS "DEAD DUCK"; SEEK NEW PLAN

HARRISBURG (P) — The House readied a move today to all but bury the proposal for a one per cent sales tax.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican leader, conceded he was "pessimistic" that the sales levy will ever pass the 1953 Legislature.

The measure, battered from pillar to post in two months of legislative maneuvering, was expected to be recommended to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Rep. August Metz (R-Pike), outspoken foe of the sales levy, said the legislation was "a dead duck." The House GOP leadership made a last-ditch attempt to obtain Republican support at a three-hour caucus last night. The effort failed.

"Don't Have Votes" "We don't have the votes and we don't seem to be able to get any more converts," Johnson said. "I'm pessimistic."

The GOP leaders lacked about a dozen votes among the 109 members of the Republican caucus. A total of 105 votes is needed to pass a tax bill. All 98 Democrats are against the sales tax.

If the sales tax is dead as its opponents claim, the Legislature will be faced with the problem of working out an alternate tax program to close a 157 million dollar gap in the commonwealth's proposed $1,400,000,000 for the next biennium.

The one per cent sales levy would raise 172 millions a biennium.

super market from Springs Ave. to W. Middle St.; Howard St., south to end of curbing; West St. from Chambersburg St. to W. Middle St.; alley from W. Middle St. to Springs Ave.

Streets to be graded and crushed stone applied are Sixth St. to the sewer plant; Constitution Ave. from W. Lincoln to the Reading Railroad station.

Council ordained the Bream alley Monday night and adopted this name for it. It will be 20 feet in width.

The cost of the highway program will be about the same as last year, Councilman L. D. Shearer, chairman of the Highway Committee, said.

The Highway Committee was authorized to have a curb at the northeast corner of Carlisle and Stevens Sts. rounded. Council referred to its Highway Committee and borough solicitor the question of a new sidewalk at 215 Baltimore St. Both the curb and pavement are in bad condition, and complaints have been received, Councilman Shearer said.

High Sidewalk Grade Borough Engineer Winebrenner said the grade here was changed in 1921 after this walk was built, and conformity to this new grade would leave sidewalks on either side higher than the new one.

Council President H. M. Oyler said the curb was too high, and persons parking cars at this point could not open their doors on the right side of the cars.

A notice was directed to be sent Atty. Richard S. Brown, owner of property at W. Middle and S. Washington Sts. directing him to repair the curb at this point. Notices will also be sent to repair walks and curbs on the west side of Liberty St. back of the Ford garage and on the east side of Third St. The Highway Committee was directed to place several loads of stone on Long Lane to fill in the ruts.

The borough engineer was authorized to purchase paint as needed to paint curbs at restricted parking areas and street intersections, and was directed to paint curbs 15 feet from intersections at W. Middle and Franklin Sts., south side, and at York and Fifth Sts.

Plan Spotter Post At Emmitsburg

Plans are being made by J. Roger Fisher, Civil Defense, director for Frederick County, to activate three ground observer posts throughout the county for the spotting of airplanes. The posts will be located at Brunswick, Camp Detrick and Emmitsburg.

Director Fisher said a team of Air Force men from the field center in Baltimore is working in Frederick County and several adjacent counties to activate posts in the Western Maryland area.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for the period Wednesday, May 6, through Sunday, May 10:

Eastern Pennsylvania, Eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: Temperatures will average 1-3 degrees above normal. Cooler winds Tuesday night, warmer afternoon temperatures Saturday and Sunday. Showers and scattered thunderstorms Tuesday night and Wednesday and again about Friday, totaling nearly an inch of rainfall.

SET DATES FOR BARLOW PICNIC

Plans for the annual Barlow Firemen's picnic to be held August 14 and 15 were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Barlow Fire Co. held at its hall, Gettysburg R. 1.

Thirty-nine awards will be made in connection with the affair. The principal award will be a "baby beef" expected to weigh between 800 and 900 pounds at that time.

Fire Chief Bernard Miller reported on plans to urge the state legislature to permit use of the funds received from the tax on "foreign" insurance companies for equipment as well as firemen's relief. The funds are paid each year by the state to the township supervisors who turn the money over to the fire companies. Present laws permit using the amounts for firemen's relief only. Because few demands have been made, many fire companies have accumulated a fairly large amount in the fund over the years.

Miller also announced that arrangements for the picnic have been made through the cooperation of J. William Kendeheart, superintendent of highways, for the Barlow fire department to draw water from Rock Creek from the bridge across the Taneytown Rd.

President Alfred Ferner presided at the meeting.

Bank Watchman Held For Theft

HARRISBURG (P) — A 60-year-old bank night watchman today awaited a hearing on charges of larceny in the theft of nearly $16,000 from the Capitol Bank and Trust Company.

John N. Heck Jr. was arrested Saturday near Baltimore shortly after bank officials notified police he was missing.

Employed by the bank for five weeks Heck waived extradition in Baltimore and was returned here yesterday. He told Maryland officials he was tired of living and was resigned to spending the rest of his life in jail. He had been headed toward Florida.

Arthur H. Hull, chairman of the bank board, said a number of depositors bags, brought in at night while Heck was on duty, had been found slit open. Heck's disappearance was discovered when a depositor found no one at the bank to take his money and called the head teller.

Heck worked a 3 to 11 p. m. shift and accepted night deposits.

Fairfield Council Secretary Resigns

The regular May meeting of the Fairfield Borough Council was held Monday night, with Harper Hiner, president, presiding.

The council accepted with regret the resignation of Edwin G. Adams, borough secretary, who is leaving Fairfield for a new position in Scranton.

No one has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Hiner said it was likely a special meeting would be called in the near future for this purpose.

Only routine business was transacted Monday night, he said.

Allow a tablespoon of butter to every two eggs when you are preparing scrambled eggs. Have the butter melted in a hot skillet before you add the slightly beaten eggs; then turn the heat low and as the eggs set draw them toward the center.

Bury Local Woman This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude M. Albright, 57, wife of Henry C. Albright, who died Saturday afternoon in the Warner Hospital, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Bender Funeral Home, with the Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr. officiating. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery. The pallbearers were Charles Bender, William Jacobs, Charles Jacobs, Fred Sanders, William Pensyl and Walter B. Lane.

SUGGEST FIVE

climatic Fox said suggestions have been made to the Safety Committee since last fall that all meters be made five-cent.

The Safety Committee said it had had under consideration the purchase of an additional police automobile, and recommended that any such action be deferred. Council voted to pay borough police officers eight cents a mile when they use their own cars for police work, when it was claimed that officers have been driving their own autos on out-of-town trips.

Seek Comfort Station

Council voted to ask State College for information on the estimated cost and maintenance of public comfort stations, after this request was made by Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president of the Associated Civic and Service Group. Mrs. Buehler appeared before council and outlined the group's previous action. She said it had adopted the comfort station plan as its project and that plans had been prepared by Wilbur Plank, Gettysburg engineer.

"We have no definite plans and we don't know what the cost might be," Mrs. Buehler said. "We do feel, however, that a comfort station in downtown Gettysburg is a definite and pressing need." Various members of the council echoed her views. Mr. Plank presented his blueprints for inspection. Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said the northwest segment of Lincoln Square would make the best location, and he said sewer connections could be made there without using a pump. Mr. Plank said this was also the best segment because it received the most sun in the winter and has less ice and snow.

To Annex New Area

Council voted to annex a part of the new Colt Park development and ordain an extension of Highland Ave. when the deed is presented. The borough engineer and Solicitor Eugene V. Buleit were directed to draw up an ordinance.

S. Blaine Miller, representing the Colt Park Development Corp., said the new section to be annexed contained 56 building lots. It does not include all of the development, however, he said.

"We don't want to withhold the remainder of the property, but we don't see any point in taking it into the borough now," he said. "Our development of this latter area is so far in the future we see no reason for annexation at this time."

The question of new street lights in the Colt Park section was brought up by Councilman Kenneth Johns. "When the Highland Ave. extension is ordained, we will need street lights," he said. He added that there had been complaints of two street lights on Ridge Ave. and none on Redpatch Ave. Both questions were referred to the Utility Committee for further study.

Cite "Private" Hazard

The borough solicitor was authorized to employ Mrs. Paul Little, county court stenographer, to make a record of proceedings in the case of John B. and Catheline D. Stevens, Carlisle St. extended, against the borough, in which the plaintiffs are seeking damages alleged to their property through the widening and regrading of this street.

The viewers, Atty. J. Francis Yake Jr., P. S. Orner and Roy D. Renner, will meet Wednesday.

Burgess William G. Weaver reported that an investigation had been made of complaints of hazards at the old brick yard and it had been found that the land was private property on which the borough had no authority.

The Women's Civic Council had complained that the brick yard quarry pond was dangerous to children, and that old refrigerators placed on a nearby dump constituted another menace. They said there was danger that children playing there might get in the old ice boxes and not be able to get out.

"The property owner is not required to fence the ponds," the borough said. "We wrote the state health board and they investigated and found that there was no health menace in this locality. We have asked Morris Gitlin to place additional no trespassing signs on his part of the property. Mr. Gitlin doesn't want people to dump refuse there."

Mrs. Buehler said that since the original complaint was made, a number of people who had dumped old ice boxes there had gone back and removed the latches. An inspection, Councilman Shearer said, revealed that there were no latches now on any of the old ice boxes.

Burgess Weaver said Chief of Police Jack Bartlett and the police department were doing "an excellent job" in directing traffic in Lincoln Square on Sunday afternoons and evenings. He said that a complaint had been received that pedestrians were having difficulty in crossing Baltimore St. at High St. with the yellow blinker light operating during this time.

"I directed Chief Bartlett to make a survey," the borough said. "As a result, we believe it is better that one pedestrian be held up in cross the street there than to have traffic tied up in the square."

Reports On Cleanup

The borough engineer reported that the spring cleanup campaign has progressed from the north end of town to the center, both east and west. Borough employees and trucks will cover this area once more before the close of the drive on May 15.

On recommendation of the Property Committee, the borough authorized the purchase of a power polisher and sander for the fire department, at a cost of $69.50. He said it would be used for polishing fire trucks and the police car, and could be used for other purposes.

The Property Committee was also authorized to purchase six new street banners from the Keystone Highway Traffic Equipment Co. at a cost of $61.90 each. Councilman James S. Shenk said a number of the old banners were badly faded, and needed replacing.

TAFT SAYS CUT OKAYED BY IKE IN SPENDING IS "NOT ENOUGH"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration tentatively has decided to hold military spending at the 43 billion dollar level but Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today the cut under former President Truman's estimates "isn't enough."

Taft, the Senate Republican leader, confirmed that President Eisenhower's announcement last week of an 8½ billion dollar cut-back in appropriation requests to Congress is based on continuing the military program at its present levels in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This would lop off the 2½ billion increase in arms spending proposed by Truman. Eisenhower has contended, however, that his administration will get more out of its dollars and thus attain approximately the same combat strength.

Taft said he thinks a Defense Department reorganization plan now pending before Congress, and proposed reductions in manpower should yield some savings, but not enough.

Wants New Chief Of Staff
"What we need is new military advice—a resurvey which will fix the wartime roles of the Army, Navy and Air Force and tell us what weapons we need and what we should discard," he said.

"With that kind of survey we ought to be able to make some intelligent savings in military spending."

Taft said he thinks he is "making some progress at the White House" with his proposal that new chiefs of staff be named to start on this survey before their predecessors retire this summer.

Pentagon officials disclosed yesterday that they plan to cut military manpower by about 250,000 if the Korean War ends but will trim only 180,000 if the present stalemate conflict continues.

Wednesday night at 7:45 p.m. in the social room of the church here, Family Night will be observed in celebration of Mother's Day. Entertainment will be by Randy and Eddie, magicians. Miss Elsie Elsenhart will be the speaker and tell of her recent European trip.

Miss Hattie Reichert was confined to her home due to illness the past week.

28TH WILL BE REACTIVATED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber said today the Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th Infantry Division will be reactivated this month.

"We will be pretty well along before June 1," he told a newsman. Weber said a commanding officer has been selected but refused to name him at present.

The Department of the Army recently approved the reactivation because less than 500 Pennsylvanians now remain with the federalized 28th Division stationed in Germany.

Soldiers of the commonwealth's 28th Division went into federal service in September, 1950, a little after outbreak of the Korean War. The designation, 28th U. S. Infantry Division, will remain with the federal unit for a while, therefore, making two divisions with the same name.

Most Pennsylvanians serving with the 28th when it was federalized have been released because their enlistments have expired. The only Keystone State soldiers still in the division are those who have signed up for regular Army hitch.

Weber said about 17,500 men will have to be recruited to bring the division up to full strength. The Pennsylvania National Guard presently has 7,000 men in its ground forces and 2,500 in its air force.

When the 28th was federalized, the home guard was reactivated as it was during World War II when the 28th went into federal service.

The guard, commanded by Col. Raymond Goodrich, Washington, Pa., has consisted of a skeleton force of some 40 men and officers. It will be disbanded as soon as the 28th is organized.

Here And There

was Strickland Gillilan, and his masterpiece was "Finnigan to Flannigan," for more than half a century an oft-quoted classic of humorous poetry. It has been published more times than anyone ever counted, and now, fifty-five years after it was written, its popularity in railway circles is just as great as ever. Tracks this month publishes it and the story of the man who wrote it as a fitting St. Patrick's Day offering.

Strickland Gillilan, now in his eighty-fourth year, has never been allowed to forget "Finnigan to Flannigan" for so much as a day. Recalling the circumstances of the birth of the poem, he recently told how "the Palladium came out that afternoon and some persons who had never laughed before in their lives—who had never smiled since they were babies—called boisterously across the street, 'Hello, Finnigan!' and laughed right out loud; yes, sir, right out loud!"

"Strick" Gillilan eventually attained national fame as a humorist and philosopher and, by 1906, the demand upon his time as a lecturer and after-dinner speaker was so great that he quit newspaper work and devoted himself exclusively to lecturing and writing.

When radio came along, Gillilan became active in that field, not only as a script writer but as an entertainer. His homespun program, "The Corn Cob Pipe Club," is remembered by millions. More recently he has been in demand for television appearances.

The man whose stories and poems have endeared him to three generations of Americans has lost none of his old-time sparkle, despite his advancing years. He recalled that as a boy in Ohio his ambition was to become a railroad man. While he did not realize that ambition in exactly the way he had hoped, he feels that his extensive travels by rail, his life-long interest in railroading, his nation-wide acquaintance with railroad men, and finally his railroad poems—particularly "Finnigan"—should qualify him as a member of the great railroad family.

This is Strickland Gillilan's famous poem "Finnigan to Flannigan":
Superintendent wuz Flannigan;
Boss av th' s'ction wuz Finnigan.
Whinver th' cyars got off th' track
An' muddled up things to th' divvie an' back,
Finnigan writ it to Flannigan.
Afther th' wrick wuz all on agin—
That is, this Finnigan
Reported to Flannigan.
Whin Finnigan furst writ to Flannigan,
He writ in pa-ages, did Finnigan.
He could jusst how th' wrick occurred—
Sure, minny a tajus, blundherin' wurd
Did Finnigan writ to Flannigan,
Afther th' cyars had gone on agin;
That's th' way Finnigan
Reported to Flannigan!

Now Flannigan knowed more than Finnigan—
He'd more idjuc-a-tion had Flannigan,
An' ut wore'n clane an' completely out
T' tell what Finnigan writ about
In his writin' t' Murther Flannigan.
So he writ this here:
"Murther Finnigan—
Gone agin—Finnigan."

U. N. Command Accuses Reds Of Stalling In Truce Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The U. N. Command today accused the Communists of throwing up a smoke screen in the Korean truce talks and said Red stalling "casts serious doubts on their sincerity."

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. insisted the Allies could not agree to Red demands that 48,000 prisoners who have spurned communism be shipped to a neutral Asian custodian.

"Many would destroy themselves rather than submit to removal from Korea," the senior Allied delegate said.

The Reds refused again at a 59-minute session to commit themselves on a neutral custodian.

"Merely A Smoke Screen"
The most Red truce delegates would say was that Allied negotiators would say that a neutral caretaker was "worth welcoming."

They also insisted that both sides first work out the functions of the neutral before deciding on the nation itself.

Harrison, senior Allied delegate, told reporters that the functions would apply equally to any neutral and said of the Red demand: "That is merely a negotiating smoke screen. That's all in the world it is."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator, declared the "important question" is whether unwilling prisoners shall be sent to a neutral nation or shall be turned over to the neutral custodian in Korea.

Revises Three Points
Nam asked the U. N. Command to clarify these three points:
1. What steps would the Allies take to remove military control over the prisoners?
2. How would the U. N. Command at the same time enable the neutral to take control of the POWs?
3. How would it maintain order in the prison camps?

Harrison replied such matters could be quickly solved once agreement was reached on the neutral nation.

The delegates meet again at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Guns And Bombs Flatten 228 Red Targets In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—The American Navy's big guns and bombs burned or flattened 228 Communist buildings in the Korean northeast coast Sunday in one of its heaviest blows of the war.

Two carriers, the Princeton and the Valley Forge, hurled scores of planes into the attack on supply areas around Hungnam and Hamhung.

The 45,000-ton battleship New Jersey stood offshore and pounded the area with its 16-inch guns. She was credited with destroying 23 buildings and damaging eight.

Far East Air Force B29s struck at airfields at the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, and carrier-based planes raked the northwest coast.

Destroy 140 Trucks
U. S. Fifth Air Force B26 bomber and Thunderjet pilots reported destruction of 140 supply trucks last night. It was their highest bag in three weeks.

On the ground, only patrol clashes were reported Sunday night and Monday morning.

In the longest morning ground clash reported, a South Korean patrol fought a North Korean platoon for 30 minutes near the Punchbowl on the Eastern Front.

In a hot fight Sunday afternoon, Canadian troops beat back 750 to 1,000 Chinese in a 2½-hour battle inside Allied lines on the Western Front northeast of Panmunjom.

Don't do sich a sin agin;
Make 'em brief, Finnigan!"

Whin Finnigan got that from Flannigan,
He blushed rosy-red, did Finnigan.
An' he said 'I'll gamble a whole month's pa-ay
That it'll be minny an' minny a da-ay
Before Sup'rntindint—that's Flannigan—
Gits a whack at that very same sin agin.
From Finnigan to Flannigan
Reports won't be long agin!"

Wan da-ay in th' s'ction av Finnigan
On th' road sup'rntindint be Flannigan,
A ra-all give way on a bit av a curve.
An' some cyars wint off as they ma-ade th' shwerve.
"There's nobody hurted," says Finnigan,
"But reports must be ma-ade to Flannigan."
An' he winked at McGorrigan
As married a Finnigan.
He wuz shanty'n, thin, wuz Finnigan,
As minny a ra-allroader's been agin.
An' 'is shmoky ol' lamp wuz burnin' bright
In Finnigan's shanty all that night—
B'illin' down 'is report, wuz Finnigan.
An' he writ this here:
"Murther Flannigan—
Off agin, on agin,
Gone agin—Finnigan."

Red Officer

fair brand of English and he mixed a good deal with the correspondents who followed the fortunes of the fight against Rommel's famed Afrika Corps.

But even in those days as an ally, Solodovnik displayed a belligerent attitude toward the British and American effort. He poked sly fun at the war in the desert.

One day Col. Philip Astley, the British press officer, briefed Solodovnik on details of Montgomery's attack against Rommel just south of Bengasi. Monty had used the Highland and New Zealand Divisions to spearhead a thrust.

British Are Humored
For the desert war, that was a good-sized spearhead, although the Russians in those days were using massed divisions in their fighting. When Astley explained to Solodovnik the two-division tactic, the little Russian quipped: "Oh, I understand. A patrol action!"

If Solodovnik thought he was needing the British, he was wrong. His crack tickled the British sense of humor so much they spread the story through the Army themselves.

During that winter, the fighting in North Africa bogged down. Eisenhower's time-table for capturing Tunisia stalled in mud and rain and growing German resistance. Solodovnik flew from the desert into North Africa, by British courtesy, to look over the situation.

After a few days, he returned and wrote a long dispatch for Moscow. He presented it to the special censor who handed only Solodovnik's writings. Things began popping. Solodovnik was called into the tent of Montgomery's chief of staff.

Piece Is Censored
Roughly, this was how the conversation went to those listening outside:
Officer: "Solodovnik, we cannot approve this story."
Solodovnik: "But why?"

Officer: "You spent only a few days in North Africa. You had only a superficial look at the situation. Obviously you could not know all the facts. Therefore, we cannot let you send this dispatch saying that Gen. Eisenhower should be removed from his command."

Solodovnik left soon after that. I saw him once in Italy as a member of the Russian mission observing the fighting there. He had been promoted to full colonel.

Then, near the war's end, the Americans and Russians met on the Mulde River in Germany. Russia's Gen. Koniev invited America's Gen. Omar N. Bradley to dinner at his headquarters in an old German mansion south of Berlin.

There on the steps stood Solodovnik, wearing this time the insignia of a major general.

But Solodovnik was cool toward his old companions of the western desert. Maybe he was brooding because Eisenhower hadn't been fired.

AIR GENERAL GROUNDS SELF AFTER 13 TOURS

SEOUL (AP)—Now that his secret is out, Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, 49-year-old commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, has grounded himself after 13 missions over North Korea in his swift Sabre jet, Barcus' Carcus.

The greying general had been flying Sabre strikes with his pilots the past month. The last was a smashing 50-plane May Day attack against Radio Pyongyang in the North Korean capital. On that one Barcus taunted the Reds on a radio circuit they frequently monitor:

"This is Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, commander of the Fifth Air Force. I don't like the way you are talking about the Fifth Air Force. How did you like the way we were doing today?"

Will Leave June 1
"We'll be back. . . . We will smash anything we want up here." This was disclosed Sunday night by American war correspondents who were at Fifth Air Force headquarters when an officer reported by radio results of the Pyongyang strike.

An Air Force spokesman said Barcus, who will leave on routine rotation June 1, had wanted to fly at least one more mission.

"But now that the news is out, he has decided to pass it up," he said.

The spokesman said Barcus wanted to keep his combat flying a secret for fear superiors would ground him.

MORE REPORTS FOR GOVERNORS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors of the states and territories receive reports today on the Eisenhower administration's drive to cut spending and on civil defense against possible atomic warfare.

The executives arranged to meet behind closed doors again with top federal officials, and to hear once more from President Eisenhower at the close of the extraordinary two-day conference.

Today's program, with Secretary of the Interior McKay presiding, called for reports by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on the economical and financial outlook,

Teachers are to be present from the county schools to learn how to operate the mechanisms and to sign for the machines.

COMPROMISE ON TARIFF SOUGHT

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans searched for a compromise today in a conflict between the Eisenhower administration and some GOP House members over trade and tariff policies.

The State, Defense and Treasury Departments joined yesterday in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee opposing a trade bill by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.).

The bill would extend the present reciprocal trade program for one year beyond June 12, but write in numerous new provisions designed to strengthen protection for U. S. industry against any injury by competition from cheaper foreign imports.

More administration witnesses were scheduled today—Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen.

WAGNER LABOR ACT AUTHOR IS DEAD AT 75

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert F. Wagner, former Democratic U. S. senator who sponsored the Wagner Labor Relations Act and other important New Deal legislation, died yesterday at 75 after a long illness.

Wagner, who resigned from the Senate in June, 1949, because of illness, died at the home of his son, Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr. The son said death was caused by heart fatigue.

The former New York senator had been an invalid for the past few years, and was bedridden a large part of the time. He received the last rites of the Roman Catholic church, to which he was converted several years ago. Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Born in Germany and brought to this country when 8 years old, Wagner had a long political career in New York state before going to Washington.

AWAIT RED PUSH IN INDOCHINA

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—A possible push by the Communist-led Vietminh toward the Laotian kingdom's administrative capital of Vientiane was reported Monday by French and Laotian forces still await a major attack on the royal seat of Luangprabang.

These forces, described as "light elements," apparently already were more than 25 miles south of Xiengkhouang, on Colonial Route 7. That highway was the principal route of Vietminh forces which entered Laos from the coast of Annam, in conjunction with the other invaders from the north and northwest.

Vietnam, home of the Laotian government and a key point on the Thailand border, appeared the logical target for these forces to the south. The French have started strengthening the town's defenses, but they are not nearly so advanced as those at Luangprabang, 140 miles to the north.

Mrs. Ida Wolf, Abbottstown's oldest resident, is recovering from an attack of influenza. Mrs. Wolf is 96 years of age.

Hemingway, Inge, MacLeish, Whitehead Pulitzer Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—His vivid tale of "The Old Man and the Sea" today was the first of Ernest Hemingway's many novels to bring him a Pulitzer prize in his 30-year literary career.

Hemingway's short novel yesterday won the 1953 Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

The stage award went to William Inge for his Broadway hit play "Picnic."

Mac Leish and Whitehead Repeat winners in this year's list of prizes were Archibald MacLeish, poetry, and Associated Press writer Don Whitehead, who received honors for national reporting. The New York Times received its second special Pulitzer citation, this time for its Sunday edition section, "Review of the Week."

Selections for the 1953 Pulitzer awards were announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University. The prizes were made for work done during 1952.

Other awards announced yesterday:

Meritorious public service by a newspaper—the Whiteville, N. C., News Reporter and the Tabor City N. C., Tribune for their successful campaign against the Ku Klux Klan. The independently published papers are the first weeklies ever to win a Pulitzer Prize.

International reporting—Austin Wehrwein, 37, of the Milwaukee, Wis., Journal, for a series of articles on Canada.

Local reporting—Staff reporters and photographers of the Providence (R. I.) Journal and Evening Bulletin for their coverage of a bank robbery; and Edward J. Mowery, 47, of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, for his stories leading to vindication of a man falsely imprisoned for life as a murderer.

Cartoon, Editorials, Photo Cartoon—Edward D. Kuekes, of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, for his sketch of two soldiers in Korea carrying a dead buddy and commenting that he was too young to vote.

Editorials—Vermont Connecticut Rover, 39, of the Wall Street Journal, for his regular editorial series covering many topics.

News photographer—William M. Gallagher, 30, of the Flint (Mich.) Journal, for his picture of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson campaigning with a hole in the sole of his shoe.

Biography—David J. Mays, 57 and Virginia-born, for his book on Edmund Pendleton, the lawyer who guided Virginia in its advocacy of American independence in 1776.

No Music Award History—George Dangerfield, 47, for his "The Era of Good Feelings," a study of the administration of James Monroe and John Quincy Adams. He is British-born.

No award was made in music this year. The $1,500 traveling scholarship in art went to Joseph Anuszkiewicz, 22, of Erie, Pa., a student at the Cleveland Institute of Art.

The winning novel by Hemingway, 54, is the story of an aged fisherman's fight to land a giant fish.

36th Year Whitehead, 45, a Virginia native, won his second Pulitzer Prize yesterday for his 4,400-word story, "The Great Deception," a graphic description of President Eisenhower's secret flight to Korea before his inauguration. Whitehead in 1951 shared a Pulitzer for his Korean War coverage with several other correspondents.

The awards for journalism are worth $1,000 each to the winners. The prize-winning newspapers get gold medals. Awards in other fields are worth $500.

Joseph Pulitzer, the late publisher and founder of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, established the Pulitzer Prizes in journalism and letters in a bequest of 2½ million dollars to Columbia University. Awards announced yesterday were the 36th annual prizes.

YOUNG COUPLE, BOAT MISSING

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP)—Coast Guard boats patrolled nearby waters Monday in a search for a scientist and his wife, reported missing aboard a sloop.

In question was whether the sloop was the same craft sunk as a derelict by the Coast Guard a week ago.

Dr. Winton Steinfield, about 35, and his wife Peggy, about 25, were last seen April 26 as they were sailing through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal on a trip from Baltimore to Long Island, N. Y.

Steinfield, engaged in cancer (N. Y.) National Laboratories, lived at Yaphank, N. Y.

Boat Was Menace After officials of the laboratory reported the Steinfields missing, the local Coast Guard recalled it had sunk a derelict boat off Cape May April 27.

"We are almost sure that it is the same boat," a spokesman for the local Coast Guard said.

The sunk boat had been declared a menace to navigation. Efforts to tow the boat in had failed, and the Coast Guard spokesman said the only alternative was to sink it.

A Brookhaven spokesman said Steinfield had purchased the sloop in Baltimore, and went there to bring it to Cape May.

KILLED IN COLLISION

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP)—Robert E. Burgess, 21, of Towanda was killed on Sunday in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 220, about 10 miles from here. Two others were injured critically. Police said they were unable to determine the cause of the accident. Donald Smith, 23, of Towanda, and Louis Vanderpool, 26, of Athens were reported critically at Robert Packer Hospital in Sayre.

Four Workmen Are Killed In Blast

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A powder blast killed four workmen and demolished two mixing mills at a Du Pont Co. explosives factory at nearby Moosic on Sunday.

A Du Pont spokesman said about 600 pounds of black powder went up, ripping apart the two 20-foot square wooden structures. The blast was felt in a 20-mile radius.

Robert Risher, assistant manager of the plant, identified the dead as Homer Brong, 39, of Blakely; John Stalbird, 36, Glendale R. 2, Avoca; Russell Maurer, 43, Moosic Borough councilman, and William Gregory, 26, Moosic.

2 PRISON RIOTS ARE QUELLED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Prison officials at the Eastern State Penitentiary disclosed on Sunday that prisoners burned mattresses, blankets and furniture and damaged six cells Saturday in two riotous outbursts.

Deputy Warden Walter Tees said guards risked their lives to successfully extinguish the fires and quell 34 mutinous convicts.

The riots originated among a group of prisoners in segregated cells who demanded to be removed from the punishment block, Tees said. He said also that the inmates requested better radio programs and a better parole system. "They just wanted their own way," Tees said.

Eight of the ringleaders were placed in solitary confinement. Five others were sent to the prison at Graterford, Pa., and placed in maximum security cells. State police, armed with riot sticks, patrolled the corridors to prevent any new outbursts.

Warden Cornelius J. Burke said the prisoner demands were met with firm denials. He said the men had been under punishment for repeated infractions of prison regulations. Two of the ringleaders are serving life terms for murder, Tees said.

YOUNG HERO WILL GET CUP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jackie Adams of Clearfield, Pa., received a cup from Vice President Richard M. Nixon Monday in recognition of his selection as "Kid of the Year."

Six-year-old Jackie is being honored for his feat of crawling from a crashed airplane to get help for fellow passengers. Thirty-nine finalists were considered for the award, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Had Broken Ankle Young Adams was a passenger in a private airplane which crashed about 35 miles north of Williamsport, Pa., last Sept. 14. Although suffering from a broken ankle, Jackie limped and crawled through the forest for several hours until he was seen by a forest ranger who summoned help for the other passengers.

The pilot of the plane died and four passengers were injured, two seriously.

Jackie, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Adams, will come to Washington today from New York, where, over the week end, he received a Texas bred riding horse and a $1,000 defense bond in recognition of his courage.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—The anti-white Mau Mau terrorists society sent some 300 men swooping on a remote Kikuyu Home Guard outpost Monday and burned and hacked to death 19 members of the pro-British unit.

Only one member of the Kikuyu Home Guard post escaped to tell the story. The others died among the burned ruins of their huts after their last round of ammunition had been exhausted.

It is believed that the wild brown bears of Britain were eliminated about 1,000 years ago.

"I Was A Communist For The FBI"

Matt Cvetie (left) who joined the Communist Party to learn their plans and secrets for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is shown reading the script of the radio series of his experience with Dana Andrews who plays the part of Cvetie on the air. The half hour program will be broadcast every Sunday evening for 52 weeks from 7 until 7:30 o'clock over WGET.

The experiences of Matt Cvetie, recounted on the radio program "I Was A Communist For The FBI," will begin next Sunday evening over WGET from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and continue every Sunday evening for the next 52 weeks.

Co-sponsoring the program are H. Earl Pitzer, the C. H. Musselman Co., John D. Teeter and Sons Inc., John C. Stahle, Peters Funeral Home, Pittenturf Funeral Home, Gettysburg Furniture Factories, E. J. J. Gobrecht, Lane Studio, S. Lester Scott, Keystone Cabinet Co., Adams Electric Co-operative and the National Museum.

Mr. Cvetie's story first appeared in The Saturday Evening Post and later was in a movie. For nine years he was an undercover agent of the FBI, reporting top secrets of the Communists. Hollywood star Dana Andrews plays the title role.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir

Sometime in the early 1930's, Mr. Paul Roy Editor of the Gettysburg Times, local newspaper, conceived the idea of a Peace Memorial signifying Peace between the states. Working on the idea and forming a commission they then asked the states to contribute to this Memorial to be erected on the battlefield. Seven states contributed—Pennsylvania, Virginia, Wisconsin, Illinois, Tennessee, New York and Indiana. The idea was to keep a flame burning at the top of the Memorial signifying Peace Eternal in a Nation United. Our late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, received the deed and dedicated this Memorial at the 75th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

This received great publicity all over the country and each year brings thousands of people from every state in our union; all firm in the belief that there is a symbol here; a light burning eternally to honor our brave Civil War Veterans on both sides, North and South. You can't imagine their look of amazement when they drive hundreds of miles and go out to the Memorial after dark to take a picture and find the light out. This light is turned out with a clock leaving a pilot light burning, this pilot light can't be seen.

The story that is being told is that Congress doesn't appropriate sufficient funds for the full upkeep of the Battlefield and this is part of the scrimping our local Government Director of the Park has to do in order to make the funds reach.

This light burns by natural gas, piped in from the oil fields and the costs is so insignificant in comparison to thoughts that Mothers and Fathers carry in their war weary minds; that our great Government keeps a light burning eternally, that they all shall not have died in vain.

Name omitted upon request.

MAN IS ELECTROCUTED

READING, Pa. (AP)—James E. Frederick, 43, of Reading was killed and four others injured on Sunday when 6,600 volts of electricity passed through a metal flag pole they were erecting at a used car lot near here. The flag pole fell against an overhead high tension wire as the men were attempting to take it down for repairs.

SENATE NEARS DECISION ON OIL LANDS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today edged toward expected passage by nightfall of legislation to establish state ownership of oil-rich offshore submerged lands within their boundaries.

Opponents, although fighting to the end what they call a "give-away" of federal property, conceded defeat.

Votes on a series of amendments preceded the final vote. Debate on each amendment was limited to 10 minutes, beginning at 1 p. m.

Predict 2 To 1 Margin Proponents predicted passage of the Eisenhower-backed measure by a margin of nearly 2 to 1. They call it a "restoration" to the states of property considered theirs for 150 years.

The opposition said the battle will continue in the courts and in the election campaigns of 1954 and subsequent years.

The House passed a similar, but farther-reaching, bill in March after two days of debate. This measure would provide a system of federal leasing of the outer continental shelf. So the legislation presumably will go to a conference committee.

Longest In 15 Years The debate was the Senate's longest in 15 years. Beginning April 1, it occupied the upper chamber for nearly 200 hours in 26 days.

The Senate bill, co-sponsored by Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) and 39 other senators, is similar to legislation twice vetoed by former President Truman.

It would recognize state ownership of offshore lands beneath the marginal seas out to the states' historic boundaries—generally 3 to 10½ miles, but not specified in the bill. The Supreme Court ruled three times the "paramount rights" of the federal government prevail in this area.

Scepters used by kings are believed to be survivals of the spears carried by chiefs among primitive peoples.

HEART ATTACK CAUSED CRASH FATAL TO FIVE

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A heart attack suffered possibly by the pilot as he dove his plane to a take-off was blamed tentatively today as the cause of a plane crash fatal to five persons here on Saturday.

Dr. Doris Kissell, Clinton County coroner, said a preliminary autopsy of the body of Richard J. Smart, 31, showed he may have suffered the attack during the takeoff.

Killed with Smart were Donald L. Larimer, 26, both of them guards at the Rockview Penitentiary at Bellefonte, and Larimer's wife, 28, and sons, Barry, 3, and Kim, 18 months. All were burned almost beyond recognition.

The Larimers lived at Pleasant Gap, Centre County. Larimer had started full time employment at the prison only last month. He and his family were guests of Smart's at Lock Haven.

A report from an eyewitness appeared to bear out the heart attack theory. Howard Graves, manager of the Lock Haven Airport where the plane took off, gave this description of the accident:

"The plane left the edge of the runway, headed toward the grass. At first I thought no one was in it and that it had gotten away from someone warming it up."

"It looked like it was running wild, hopping off the ground and that if someone were piloting it he had physical difficulties himself."

"When someone yelled that there were people inside I rushed into the office and called for the fire truck and ambulance. That was even before it crashed."

Hlt Trees, Barn Other witnesses said the plane finally made it into the air from the 3,350-foot runway, hit some treetops and a barn and dropped into a field on an island into the Susquehanna River. It burst into flames.

The Piper Pacer plane was loaned to Smart by a brother-in-law, the Rev. Curt J. Wetzel, a Baptist pastor known as the "flying evangelist."

Cpl. E. S. Moore, aviation inspector at the Montoursville state police barracks, said that as far as could be determined the plane had been in good mechanical condition.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Fire flashed through an old wooden blocklong food market early Monday, chasing 500 or more persons from their nearby homes.

The blaze broke out in a congested Negro area of three-story row houses on the fringe of the Loop.

Army Will Review Its Decision On Gap

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has assured Pennsylvania congressmen that it will review its decision to close the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation and submit a written report on its findings.

Sens. Martin and Duff, and Reps. Fenton and Mumma, all Republicans, said they have received numerous protests, especially from Schuylkill, Northumberland, Lebanon and other counties, about the proposed shut down of the camp.

An Army spokesman said the camp is one of a dozen installations throughout the country from which the Army is withdrawing.

Sen. Martin said he wanted to be certain the Army was not discriminating against Pennsylvania in the deactivation program.

FALLING ROCK KILLS STUDENT

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—A falling rock fatally injured a Princeton student from Berwyn, Pa., on Sunday as he and several other students from Princeton and Yale were preparing to climb a steep face of a sprawling range known as the Sleeping Giant.

The youth, John Kennedy Ewing, 19, was dead on arrival at New Haven Hospital. He suffered a fractured skull.

Ewing was among some 30 mountain climbing enthusiasts of the Appalachian Mountain Club on an outing in Sleeping Giant State Park here.

A spokesman said Ewing was roped to a fellow student and had gotten about 50 feet from the base of the cliff when a loose stone fell, striking him on the head.

Army Officer's Wife Is Killed

HARRISBURG (AP)—The wife of an Army officer stationed at Indiantown Gap was killed in a two-car collision on Route 22 near here on Sunday.

Mrs. Letitia Dye, wife of Lt. Allen Dye, was hurled from the car in which she was a passenger when it collided with another.

Lt. Dye suffered cuts of the head and face. He was treated at Harrisburg Hospital and removed to Indiantown Gap in a post ambulance.

More men than women are blind.

MOCK SESSION KILLS SALES TAX

HARRISBURG (AP)—If a practice Legislature session staged here by college students is any criterion, Pennsylvania won't have a sales tax this year.

A group of more than 500 students from all over the state, meeting here under auspices of the Intercollegiate Conference on government, voted down a proposed one per cent sales levy over the week end.

Another bill rejected by the model legislative chamber would have amended the State Constitution to permit a state income tax.

The group approved repeal of the state's loyalty oath law, creation of a Fair Employment Practices Commission, authorization of all Pennsylvania cities to adopt a form of government of their own choosing and creation of an Annexation Study Commission.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, Pittsburgh was re-elected executive director. She is co-founder of the group, dating back to 1934.

Regional directors named were: Northeast region, Eugene Sabol, Scranton University; Northwest, Blair Gunther, Alliance College; central, Ben Sinclair, Penn State; southeast, Ronald Rosenberg, West Chester Teachers, and southwest, Andrew Farley, Washington and Jefferson.
